PROJECT OVERVIEW

On The Level were tasked with providing a range of channels including the SuperSlim Tile-In and the INFINITY I-Line systems to one of the country's largest and most successful development companies, as part of two private residence renovation jobs in Kensington, London.

On The Level worked closely with Jamie from A Touch of Glass to provide the bathroom systems required in the complete renovation of two, multi-storey properties in the heart of Kensington. Each property had between four and six bathrooms, each with a wet room area, and each one had to look unique from the others. The theme for the bathrooms was large format marble slabs, which really emphasised the luxurious feel of the properties, and gave each bathroom a sense of grandeur.

The SuperSlim Tile-In is a flippable channel available in stock sizes and bespoke options. The stainless steel side can be finished polished or brushed, and the channel can be flipped over to reveal a tiled insert which blends almost seamlessly with your floor tiles.

The INFINITY I-Line, our most unique product creates an almost invisible 8mm channel against the shower wall – ideal for the minimalist look the client was looking to achieve.

The wet room systems we provided had to reflect the overall tone and quality of the rest of the property; high-end and extremely luxurious. The SuperSlim Tile-In and INFINITY I-Line systems were chosen as the main drainage systems for the bathrooms because of their high-end appearance and their capability to fit in well with a minimalistic look and feel of a bathroom. They are also ideal ways of creating a talking point in a wet room, mainly thanks to their unique style and subtlety.

Whatever the size of your project, from restoration, to renovation, and new builds, On The Level can find a solution to best suit your needs. Contact us today to discuss your requirements.
